Sales & Business Development, GCC

Executive summary

1 Why now

Salesforce is investing heavily in KSA ($500M, Riyadh HQ, local Hyperforce). Demand is outpacing local partner capacity.

2 Where to play

GCC mid-market, 100–2,000 employees: real estate, automotive, BFSI, healthcare, retail & trading, logistics.

3 How to win

Local front + offshore engine. Multi-platform credibility at 30–50% below local specialists.

4 How to start

Salesforce co-sell first, then network, outbound engine, events. UAE quick wins, KSA as the revenue engine.

The market opportunity

Why the GCC, why Salesforce, why now

Salesforce is betting on Saudi Arabia, and partners are the bottleneck

$500M

Salesforce investment in KSA announced at LEAP 2025, including partner-ecosystem expansion

Riyadh

New Salesforce regional HQ (Jan 2025) plus an AI Center of Excellence with IBM

Hyperforce

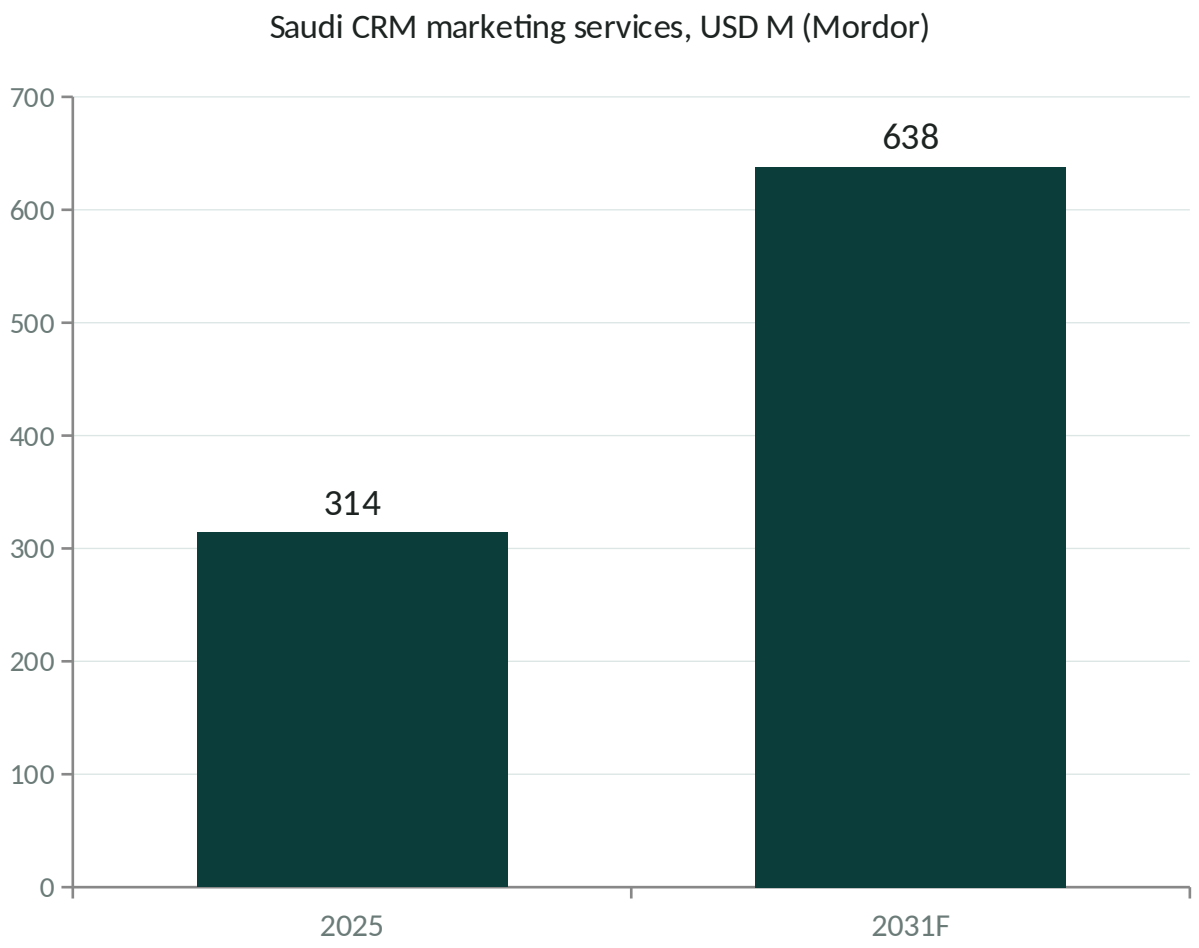

Local hosting on AWS in KSA unlocks BFSI, government and healthcare (SAMA/PDPL)

30k

Saudis to be upskilled by Salesforce by 2030, a signal of long-term demand

Implication: Salesforce needs more capable local partners. A new entrant with real delivery capacity is welcome, not blocked.

A double-digit growth market, led by KSA

~30% KSA share of the GCC CRM market, the largest country (IMARC)

12.9% Saudi CRM services CAGR to 2031

13.6% UAE CRM services CAGR to 2031

Second wave: existing Salesforce customers now need optimization, data cleanup and Agentforce readiness.

The competitive landscape

Who is already winning in KSA & UAE, and where they are exposed

Five competitor groups, and two that matter most

Global SIs above us, offshore look-alikes beside us

Global system integrators

Accenture · Deloitte · PwC · Capgemini · IBM · Globant · Publicis Sapient (Changi) · KPMG · EY

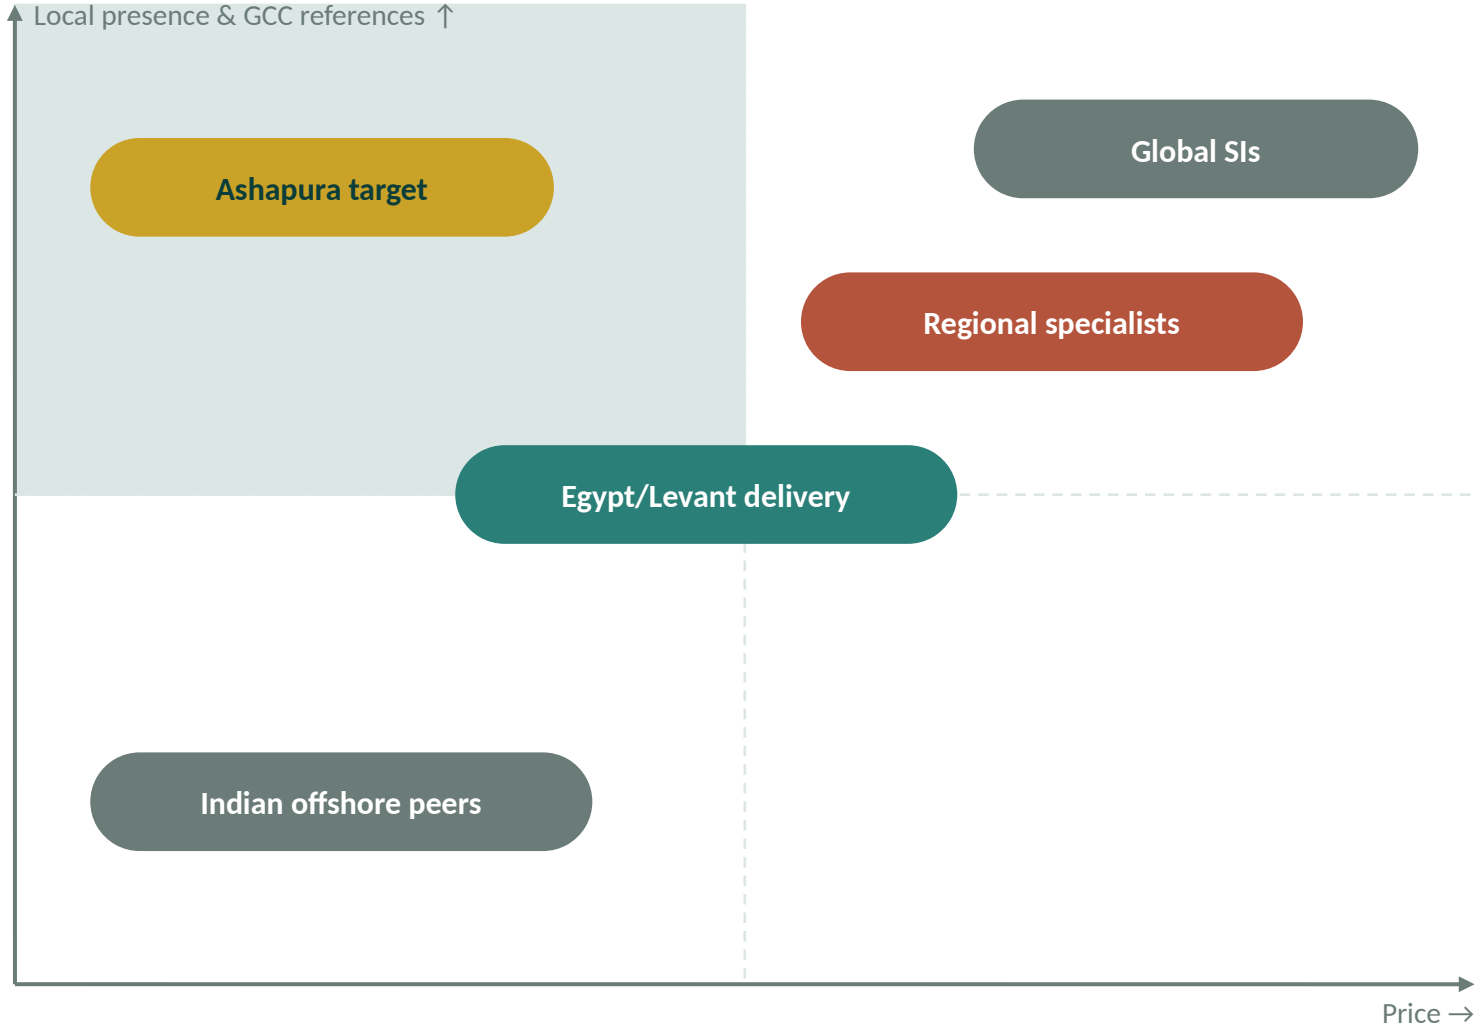

- Strong: brand, government and giga-project access, Salesforce co-sell
- Weak: expensive, slow, ignore deals under ~$300–500K
- Our play: own the mid-market and offer subcontract delivery capacity

Indian offshore peers

Netsmartz · Ksolves · Cynoteck · Codleo · Appsierra · Cloud Analogy

- Strong: lowest price, large bench
- Weak: SEO-led, remote, few GCC case studies, transactional
- Our play: real local presence, KSA network, vertical packages, on-site workshops

The open space: local presence at offshore price

Our position

- Local relationship owner in Dubai, covering KSA
- India delivery at 30–50% below local specialists
- Salesforce-led, with Zoho, Odoo and Microsoft when they fit better
- We never lose a deal to a platform

How we beat each competitor group

Competitor group	Their strength	Their weakness	How Ashapura wins
Global SIs	Brand, C-suite and government access	Cost, speed, junior delivery	Mid-market focus; subcontract delivery to them
Regional specialists	References, Arabic, Salesforce AE ties	Premium pricing, capacity, Salesforce-only	Fixed-price packages, 72h proposals, multi-platform
Egypt/Levant delivery	Arabic at low cost	Narrow platform scope	Hire 1–2 Arabic consultants in-region; broader stack
Indian offshore peers	Lowest price	No local presence or references	Local face, KSA network, on-site workshops
Substitutes	Lower license cost	Platform-locked advice	Platform-agnostic: right tool, Zoho → Salesforce path

Execution roadmap

UAE quick wins, KSA revenue engine

Roadmap: UAE base, KSA engine

1 0–3 months

Foundation

- Salesforce PAM / AE introductions in Dubai and Riyadh
- ICP, target list of 150 accounts, sequences live
- First Health Checks and network meetings

2 3–6 months

First wins

- 2–3 UAE mid-market deals closed
- First KSA opportunities through network
- Arabic consultant hired or partnered

3 6–12 months

Scale KSA

- KSA legal setup or local alliance
- Case studies published; event presence (LEAP)
- AMS base building recurring revenue

What success requires: resources, KPIs and risks

What I need

- Partner tier and certified headcount visibility
- 2–3 global case studies reworked for GCC
- Arabic pre-sales consultant within 6 months
- Event budget, GCC rate card, pricing authority
- Intro to Salesforce PAM & AEs (UAE / KSA)
- KSA legal setup plan

KPIs

- Qualified leads and meetings per month
- Pipeline value and conversion rate
- New logos and revenue vs. quarterly target
- Salesforce co-sell deals registered
- AMS recurring revenue

Risks → mitigation

- Long KSA cycles → mid-market and UAE mix
- No local references → pilots and subcontracting
- Offshore perception → local presence, hybrid delivery
- Saudization → local alliance partner
